

DOG TOY

This year I got two puppies. The Dog Toy came from my increasing interest in dogs. The wooden toy in which the monitor sits is my English Setter, Jasper, and the pre-tape for the sculpture is of my Labrador Retriever, Moby, playing with a wind up toy dog. This piece comes out of the concept that the monitor is an arbitrary shape, a rectangle that does not relate to the tape that is made for it. In this piece, the shape of the object that we see relates to what we see inside on the monitor. What is made as a tape is meant to be seen inside this sculpture.

ENTER

Scanned from the Wendy Clarke collection at the Wisconsin Center for Film and Theater Research, with support from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Wisconsin Center
for Film and Theater Research

<http://wcfr.commarts.wisc.edu>

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE
HUMANITIES